

What does your vehicle say about you?

- Stickers related to hobbies, work/industry, pets, and children unknowingly share personal information with thieves (i.e., where your children go to school, ballet practice, and whether you will be home on the weekends).
- Baby on board stickers, while cute, show you may be distracted and therefore an easy target.
- Personalized license plates are easier to recall should someone want to keep track of you.

